Owens River Again

In noting the application of Los Angeles for right of way for its conduit from Owens river, the Times says that pending the decision of the (so far mythical) board of expert engineers, Wm. Mulholland proposes to prosecute as rapidly as possible the work of cutting twenty-five miles of open canal from the intake to the northern point of the Alabama hills.

The News points out the obvious anxiety of the Times and others behind the plan, regardless of consequences, to make the city believe it is committed to carry it out. In fact, the Times says the city is so committed. The News further calls attention to the desire apparent to go so far that in case of any adverse conclusion by the proposed board it will then be too late for the city to withdraw. We believe that it is exactly the plan intended—that the promoters, men like Otis who are absolutely intolerant of opposition to whatever idea they may have in mind, hope to get the taxpayers in so deep that they will go ahead against their wishes and judgement rather than sacrifice what has already been sunk in the scheme.

The News is asking—impertinently no doubt, in the minds of Mulholland and Otis, about the board of engineers; when it is to be appointed; what right the city has to go ahead and use money voted for securing water rights, and no other purpose whatever, for construction work; and what right the promoters have to go ahead with a dollar's worth of outlay in advance of the report of the yet-to-be-appointed engineers.

The News invites a vote of the people of the city on these questions: "As a taxpayer, do you favor:

"Building the conduits if the expense does not exceed $25,000,000?

"If the cost exceeds $40,000,000?

"Bringing the water from the valley regardless of cost?

"Inviting competitive bids from water owners elsewhere, who will give bonds for performance, before committing city to Owens river plan?"

"Interdicting further work until a board of engineering experts passes judgment on the plans and surveys?"

The papers favoring the great plan quietly admit the falsity of their former claims that the city was able to do the work, by saying that the expected refusal of the Governor to include the consolidation scheme in its special-session call would delay the project for two years. The whole county must be dragged in to help pay the expense, if the plan is consummated; but regardless of this, the Times and its allies propose to push the thing ahead, no matter what the financial outcome.

Wouldn't misuse of the bond funds already voted be a proper matter for injunction or other legal proceeding? There ought to be some way to make a pledge, given though merely to win votes, binding on its givers; and as we understand it those in whose hands the $1,500,000 was placed were both morally and legally obligated to use the money for purposes which do not include canal construction.

Quarterly Session I. O. G. T.

The eighty-fifth quarterly session of the Los Angeles and Orange county District Lodge I. O. G. T. was called to order at 10 a. m. Saturday, May 26th, at Foresters' Hall, Burbank, and the regular officers were present along with visiting members from Merrill, Pasadena, Fullerton, Oscar II, Tropic, Ocean Park and Santa Monica lodges.

The morning session was devoted to the conferring of the District Lodge Degree, the degree being conferred upon eighteen members. Memorial services were held for our late Treasurer, Sister Zana Stevens. The meeting then adjourned to the banquet room where ample justice was done to the good things provided by the local lodge, and the inner man suggests a vote of thanks for this very satisfying repast.

The first part of the afternoon was devoted to the reports of officers. It was reported that there were fourteen lodges in the district with a membership of 700. One new lodge was organized May 15th at Los Angeles.

The lodges throughout the district were reported in a very prosperous condition.

The next district meeting will be held at Ocean Park the last Saturday in August.

I. O. O. F. Banquet

Glendale Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 388 tendered a banquet to the class of 14 which was recently initiated, and to visiting brothers and their wives and members of Carnation Rebekah Lodge. During the evening a program was rendered. Those taking part on the program were: Miss Laura Bulkeley, piano solo; Fred Hezmalhalch, vocal solo; Mrs. J. W. Parker, piano solo; E. D. Goode, humorous reading; Chas. Hezmalhalch, reading; cake walk, Chas. Hezmalhalch and Fred Deal.

Covers were laid for 110, and a most sumptuous repast was partaken of by those present. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

The membership of the Lodge is increasing at such a rapid rate that the new hall the boys expect to build, will not be erected any too soon. The lodge is in a most flourishing condition.

Library Notes

The Glendale Free Library and Reading Room is open as usual from four to six o'clock every day except Sundays and holidays. The new library is expected in a few days as Mr. Gillis has written that it will be forwarded as soon as possible.

It was moved and carried that all applicants for private street work should be notified by the city clerk that such application must be made on regular printed forms.

E. D. Reynolds made application to lay curbs on Third street and was informed that application must be made in proper form.

Application of George Mock for right to do some improving was read and the applicant was instructed to make his application in writing.

Map of C. E. Russell tract was approved and accepted.

With the Presbyterians

The Basket Social given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at I. O. O. F. Hall on Tuesday evening, was an occasion of great interest and pleasure. The program was a very interesting one, centering in the May pole exercise. Miss Harnett gave an explanation of the origin and history of the observance of the May festival. Little Miss Vawter was the very dignified and altogether charming May queen. Eight boys dressed in red with eight girls in white made a beautiful picture as they wound the pole.

Refreshments in the form of May baskets and ice cream were served. The proceeds were quite satisfactory and will be devoted to paying for the electric lights already installed in the church.

Many persons worked very hard to produce the result. Special credit must be given to Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Hartsough and Miss Patterson.

The topic of the Sunday morning sermon will be upon the topic: "The Glorified Savior." The evening topic will be the one announced last week: "The Coming of a Friend."

Rev. Wm. Francis Ireland, once a member of Sir Henry Irving's London Lyceum Stock Co., will speak in this church next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to hear what the theater really is from one who knows. No charge for admission. An offering will be gathered.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The rain of last Sabbath did not prevent a fair attendance upon our services in the morning. The choir sang unusually well. The membership of six persons was announced.

The pastor will preach Sabbath morning on the subject, "With a great sum obtained I this freedom." Mrs. Rev. P. H. Bodkin will speak in the evening at 7:45.

Reception of members at the morning service.

The church building is nearing completion and will be dedicated in the near future. All join in praise of the new structure. We shall very much need a new organ and are praying that some generous soul will come to the aid of the church in providing one.

The large memorial window will soon be in place.

Prayer meeting at the home of the pastor on Thursday evening was well attended and deeply spiritual. Rev. Bro. Hall was invited to lead the meeting.

The L. A. S. will give their monthly tea at the parsonage next Tuesday from 3 to 5 o'clock. A general invitation is extended.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Flood was at Monrovia Tuesday on business.

Flora Kughen, '04 was a visitor at the High School Thursday.

The Glendale-Yale track meet will be held in Los Angeles, Saturday at 2 p. m. Cover Melrose, Earl Bond, Edwin Adams, Henry Lehman, Richard Stine, Ray Bond and Edgar Smith will represent Glendale. The winning team will receive a banner and point winners will be presented with loving cups.

The Junior class will furnish the refreshments Monday evening June 4th, for an automobile party from the San Fernando High School.

Friday evening June 1st, the last entertainment in the School course will be given in the assembly hall. Mr. Harrison, a reader and soloist assisted by a pianist will be the chief attractions. The event is given by the Junior and Senior classes.

Prof. Moyse and Mr. Tower attended the memorial exercises at Grand View Cemetery, Wednesday.

Blanche Davenport and the Misses McKown with other (lady) friends spent Memorial day at Bee Rock. A feature of the picnic was the track meet held in the afternoon. Miss Davenport was the prize winner in each event with the exception of the Alfalfa hay eating contest.

The annual Alumni banquet will be held in Los Angeles this year instead of at the school as in previous years.

Services as usual next Sunday morning and evening in the Baptist church. The stated supply, Rev. W. F. Stone, will preach. All welcome.

BE NOT DECEIVED

The question of consolidation of Los Angeles city and county, wherein it is desired by certain parties residing in Los Angeles to make all of the outlying districts become a part of the city, is being agitated by these certain parties through the daily press of Los Angeles, and a committee paid by the taxpayers of the county. This consolidation scheme originated through the scheming of politicians now in power in Los Angeles, and this canvassing committee was appointed through their influence, and through the influence of these same politicians the County Board of Supervisors have appropriated two hundred dollars a month of the county taxpayers' money to pay these hired grafters of the city, who are trying to convince those outside the city that consolidation is their only salvation.

Why should the people living in that part of Los Angeles county lying outside the city limits of Los Angeles, wish to become citizens of the city? Will the ranchers in the fruit-producing and farming districts receive better prices for their crops and will the country merchants get better prices for their goods and will the ranchers and country merchants and citizens in general have their taxes reduced by annexation to Los Angeles? We think not.

These wily hirelings of the city politicians, who are paid out of the hard earnings of the country people to carry on this campaign of deceit, say that it is necessary to consolidate the city and county in order that Los Angeles and the country districts may be enabled to procure a better water supply; and this water supply is to come from the Owens river valley, providing the country people help Los Angeles pay the millions of dollars of bonds which will have to be sold to procure this water. If Los Angeles is going to have such a great surplus of water by securing the Owens river supply, and she is so very anxious to help her country cousins, it would be more becoming to her to first secure the water and then invite the country districts to become a part of the city and pay the city price for water they might wish to use.

We do not believe that the city of Los Angeles, even though it secure the waters of the Owens river valley, will be permitted by the United States government to sell any of the water for irrigation purposes, and unless the city can sell the water for irrigation, the country districts would not be benefited one particle, for every section of the entire county has all the water it needs for domestic purposes and at prices just as reasonable as can be offered by the city. In the event consolidation should carry, the politicians of the city of Los Angeles would have many millions of dollars of bond money to squander, and it seems quite probable that the city gang wishes the country districts to come in so that by this increase in its population and taxable property the city may be better enabled to market its bonds.

Glendale citizens wish Los Angeles well, but they have a city government of their own and through this government they expect to procure more benefits, and at less cost, than they could ever hope to get by annexing to Los Angeles.

The farmers of the San Fernando valley certainly have no reason to expect that Los Angeles will do anything to help them, for is not the city trying right now to deprive them of the very water which they are pumping from their own wells?

A P. E. O. Surprise

Monday evening, May 28th, Mrs. C. W. Burket thought to entertain the regular P. E. O. meeting at her home on Fifth street, but some of the good sisters knew that it was her crystal wedding anniversary and kindly invited the brothers-in-law in to help the happy couple celebrate. Immediately after the guests had assembled a remarkable concert was begun in which all participated simultaneously, the ladies whistling and the men singing. When each whistler had found the gentleman who was singing her tune, they were permitted to partake of the bountiful spread which had been prepared by the ladies of the chapter, to which full justice was done by the B. I. L.'s.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games, music and conversation. Before the guests departed, Mr. and Mrs. Burket were presented with a beautiful cut glass berry dish and an olive dish. At this token Mrs. Burket happily expressed her appreciation, after which the guests departed wishing the "bridal pair" many more happy anniversaries.

Those present were: Mesdames Goss, Ferguson, Deal, Smith Bryant, Campbell, Russell, Moyle, Albright, Misses Byram, Blackburn, Ballentyne, Hendershot and Russell. Messrs Burt, Magee, Tower, Goss, Burket, Ferguson, Smith, Bryant, R. D. Goss, Deal, Smith, Dr. Bryant, Campbell, Russell, Moyle and Albright.

Decoration Day Services

Loyal and patriotic citizens of the valley assembled at Grand View cemetery early Wednesday morning and there, assisted by members of N. P. Banks Post and Woman's Relief Corps in paying tribute to the soldier dead, whether he sleeps in Northern or Southern battlefield or 'neath the ocean wave.

The handsome new flag purchased by the ladies of the Corps and presented to the Post was at half mast from the large flag pole recently erected by the Post on the soldiers' plot. N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, assisted by pupils from Glendale, West Glendale and Tropico schools, decorated the graves of those veterans, whether members of this Post or not, who sleep their last sleep in beautiful Grand View.

Following the decoration of the graves by the ladies, and while the school children, each bearing a flag and an armful of flowers, were continuing the services, the members of the Corps, preceded by Color-bearers Mmes. Rosetta Light, Cora Maxwell, Mary Goss and Delia Hapgood, assembled around the low green mound of Mrs. Helen Corwin Pierce, wife of Gen. H. A. Pierce, and held brief and impressive services as each laid her tribute of fragrant blossoms on the last resting place of this noble woman who served her country as army nurse from '61 to '65. Then the procession of men, women and children who had laid blossoms sweet and rare on these lowly mounds, having finished their loving task, proceeded to the shade of the large canvas which had been pitched near the western entrance to the cemetery. Color-bearer J. B. Hickman headed the procession with Commander W. B. Pratt and Officer of the Day Robert Taylor. The followed the ladies of the Corps, and lastly the school children.

The program opened with exercises by the Post, Rev. C. R. Norton offered prayer, and the Corps sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul." A large monument had been erected in the center of the square formed by the Post, Corps and children, and upon this each lady hung a handsome wreath when "taps" were sounded for the departed heroes who were either members of N. P. Banks Post or were veterans who sleep in this cemetery.

Wreaths were hung to the memory of Comrades Chester K. Hill, A. D. Hapgood, D. Shuler, R. Cole, W. Gobb, J. Banker, C. W. Winne, G. M. Doyle, A. D. Duffur, John Iman, David Meyers, C. Edmunds, George Hossafous, Eugene R. Mills, J. E. Fiske, C. B. Erskine, Will Grossman, A. W. Nelson, Moses Black, W. N. Wilke, R. Thomas, Harry Warren, Otis Peyerly, Henry Clyde. Wreaths were also hung to the memory of Mrs. Helen Corwin Pierce, Mrs. Amanda J. Crist and Mrs. Addie Kanouse, the latter two being members of the Corps. Thus, though the near and dear relatives of these brave men and loyal women may be away in distant lands, the graves of their loved ones and their memories are kept green.

Robert Taylor, with a few pathetic remarks, placed a large wreath of red, white and blue, made by Mrs. Mary Gillette, on the monument to the memory of the unknown dead.

The ladies closed their impressive ceremony by singing "They are tenting to-day in their last camp ground."

Miss Blanche Tarr, of the Glendale school, gave a patriotic reading. Miss Evelyn Ryan gave the "Birth of the Flag," as Comrade Hickman stepped from the ranks and held "Old Glory" aloft. Rev. C. R. Norton delivered a brief address which resounded with patriotism, fervor and allegiance to our God, our country and our flag. Members of the Post sang "Just Before the Battle, Mother," the Corps joining in the chorus. The exercises closed with the singing of "America."

Much praise is due Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal of the Glendale school, and her corps of able assistants, Misses Hendershott, Norah Harnett, Ednah Ballantyne and Ida M. Waite. Also Miss Bryant, principal of the West Glendale school, for the patriotic and loyal manner in which they aided the services at the cemetery by bringing their pupils prepared to take their respective parts in the program or in decorating the graves.

Through a misunderstanding on the part of the executive committee of the Post and Corps, the High School and Burbank school did not respond, though the pupils of both were anxious to participate.

Memorial Sunday

Despite the inclemency of the weather Sunday afternoon G. A. R. Hall was filled with a large concourse of patriotic citizens of the valley who assembled to pay loving tribute to the memory of those men who rendered their country such valiant services during those troublesome days of '61 to '65.

The hall was decorated in flags and quantities of the fragrant lemon verbenas with its dainty purple blossoms. The exercises began at three o'clock and were opened by a patriotic quartette rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marple, Miss Fannie Alma Marple and Joseph Marple Jr. Rev. John Pittenger, pastor of the Tropic Methodist church pronounced the invocation. By request the Marple quartette rendered another musical number after the scripture reading.

The memorial sermon was delivered by Dr. J. H. Lockwood, of Pasadena, a chaplain in the army during the Civil War. Dr. Lockwood's discourse was very interesting being replete with facts and pleasant reminiscences of the rebellion. Tears dimmed the eyes of the grey-haired veterans who sat on the platform under the folds of "Old Glory" and listened to Dr. Lockwood's memorial address as the white-haired chaplain of the days gone by, recounted the pathetic as well as thrilling scenes of those war-faring days. Memory with her golden key unlocked the chamber of her treasures and each of the veterans paused with tear-dimmed eyes on the threshold.

Rev. C. R. Norton of the Glendale Methodist church closed the exercises with prayer when, all united in singing "America."

Freedom in America.

America stands for everything in the line of freedom. Consequently bigoted and perverted minds have construed the meaning of freedom to meet the demands of their selfish construction of the definition of the word, until America practically has allowed "freedom" to run to the extreme where the distinction between it and anarchy, violence, violation of law, and even treason, can scarcely be detected.

The first and perhaps the worst stepping stone to this state of affairs is taught in our system of education in public schools. The only rights a teacher has for incorrigible scholars is to verbally correct them, and very often then the teacher is censured by parents and the school board. Thus at a tender age the pupil is taught that its freedom—as the pupil construes it—must not be contested, and thus it grows to maturity with all its selfish ideas fostered by education. Is it any wonder that the world is becoming full of reformers who advocate changes only for personal greed?

One hundred young women students of a Chicago university recently, clad in nighties, and banging tin pans, made a march of protest against certain existing customs of the university.

It was the third time within a week that the young women had voiced displeasure in no uncertain terms. The march occurred in Willard hall and the reason for the expression was given as "too little dancing, too many beaus in the parlor at one time, and too many rules."

Had the school been conducted with the discipline necessary to good citizenship nothing of the sort would have occurred. When children are allowed free speech and free action according to their childish perversities and immunity from punishment in the schools during their educational career, they are certain, when matured, to cling to their own selfish ideas of freedom from the laws of their country, and cavil and howl at any legislation which does not suit them.

As a rule the people who need to be reformed are the reformers.—Exchange.

Brann's Religion

In answer to the question whether he was Baptist or Atheist, W. C. Brann, who was Master of the King's English once wrote the following beautiful lines:

"I belong to no particular cult or creed; but I do know beyond the preadventure of doubt, that the mighty universe is not without a Master. His origin and attributes are beyond my comprehension. I cannot understand the creature; how, then, can I comprehend the Creator? I know nothing of the future; I spend no time speculation upon it—I am overwhelmed by the past and at death grip with the present. At the grave God draws the line between the two eternities. Never has living man lifted the veil of death and looked beyond. "Revealed religion" was not born of reason or nursed by knowledge; it is the child of love of pain, and lives between the rosy breasts of Hope. There is a Diety. I have felt His presence and heard His voice; I have been cradled in His robe. All that is or ever will be is but the visible garment of God. I seek to know nothing of His plans or purposes. I ask no written covenant with God, for he is my father, I trust Him without requiring priests or prophets to endorse His note.

As I write my little son awakes and comes groping through the darkness to my door. He sees the light shining through the transom, returns to his little bed and lies down to dream. He knows that beyond the light his father keeps watch and he asks no more. Through a thousand celestial transoms streams the light of God. Why should I fear the sleep of death, the unknown terrors of the starless night, the wave of the River Styx? Why should I seek assurance from the lips of men that the wisdom, love and power of my heavenly Father will not fail.

An all day session of the District Lodge of the I. O. G. T. was held at I. O. F. Hall Saturday, and though a great number who contemplated coming were kept at home by the wet weather, a very interesting and enthusiastic meeting was held. A basket luncheon was served at noon by the ladies of the Burbank lodge.

Memorial services in which all the churches united were held at the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. D. McCunn occupied the pulpit. Mr. McCunn's discourse, which was most appropriate, was listened to by a very large audience. The church was artistically decorated with flowers and bunting, the stars and stripes predominating.

Mike Carres, a section hand, fell off a hand car at Hewitt station Thursday afternoon and sustained very painful injuries which will confine him to his bed for several months. All the bones in one leg were fractured and the muscles were very badly lacerated. He was brought to Burbank where he was made as comfortable possible as after which he was sent to the S. P. Merry Picnic

Last Wednesday morning quite a large company of young folks of Tropic and Los Angeles gathered at the home of Miss Orpha Sherwood on Park Ave. and were met by Mr. Fishel with his large hay rack. The company enjoyed a splendid five mile ride to Bee Rock, Griffith Park. On their arrival at the park the party enjoyed a sumptuous repast which had been provided by the young ladies of the party. After dinner the picnickers climbed to Bee Rock from where a most magnificent view can be had. After returning from the rock the afternoon was spent in playing games and singing. At about five o'clock in the evening a light luncheon was partaken of and at six the merry party started for home. The return was made by way of the upper road the entire length of which commands a splendid view. On arriving at about 7:15 the tired but happy pleasure seekers wended their way homeward.

Bee Rock seems to be growing quite popular for picnics for, beside the above-mentioned party, there were four other picnics, one being a hay rack from Los Angeles. Two auto parties were there, one of which was from Varney & Green, Los Angeles, and one from Hollywood; and the Russell family from Glendale, accompanied by Dr. Burt, the Glendale dentist. All of the parties expressed themselves as being delighted with Bee Rock as a picnic ground.

Holman & Campbell, managing agents for C. B. Moore's re-subdivision of Block 9, Glendale Boulevard Tract, comprising twenty-four lots in all, have just let a contract to C. F. Parker to put in cement walks and curbs for this entire tract. The above firm has sold within the past few days fifteen lots in the Thompson Tract, North Glendale, at prices ranging from $600 to $850 per lot. Also re-sale of Lot 24, Block 14, from Walter Fricker to J. Littell for $2000. They also report a re-sale of Lot 7, Block 24, Glendale Boulevard Tract, from J. L. Siednoski to Clifford Shangle for $2000.

GLENDALE

To a person accustomed to and appreciating the advantages of the city, but who prefers a life in the country for considerations of health, pleasure or profit, the ideal location for a home is found in a pleasant country neighborhood within a few minutes' ride of the city.

This close association of city and country gives to property in the suburbs of a large and rapidly growing city a value which is difficult to estimate in dollars and cents. It is a consideration which appeals forcibly alike to the home-seeker who is fortunately above the necessity of taking into account the question of a financially profitable investment; to the tiller of the soil, who must necessarily figure upon the associated ideas of a productive soil, favorable climatic conditions, and a near-by market; and finally to the investor looking with speculative eye upon the promise made by a particular locality in regard to the probable increase of values in the near future.

To all of the above classes, GLENDALE appeals with peculiar force given by its unique merits and varied attractions. In an air line it is six miles from the business center of Los Angeles, and about three miles from the northern boundary of that city.

RAILROADS

The Glendale branch of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, starting from its depot on First street, passes through East Los Angeles, along the base of the low hills on the northern limits of the city paralleling the line of the Southern Pacific road until it reaches Glendale avenue at its junction with the San Fernando road, where it proceeds northward through Glendale to its present terminus, Verdugo Park.

The Huntington Electric Railway system has recently completed a double-track line connecting Los Angeles and Glendale, first class in its construction, equipment and service, following a route which for scenic beauty is probably unequalled by any ride of similar length in Southern California.

Authentic Copy of Letter About Christ is Found

An authentic copy of an original letter of Publius Centullus, written to Tiberius Caesar in Rome during the time of Christ and telling of the appearance and ministry of the Savior, has been found in the library of M. W. Dillon, who has an office in No. 206 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Dillon received it from his father, to whom it was given by Archbishop Lord Kelley, of Tuam, Ireland, many years ago, when the elder Mr. Dillon was studying for the priesthood.

Lord Kelley copied the letter from the original in Rome. Translated, it reads in part as follows:

"There appears in these days a man of great virtue, named Jesus Christ, who is yet living among us, and by the gentiles is accepted as a prophet of truth, but his own disciples call him the son of God. He raiseth the dead and cureth all manner of diseases. He is a man of stature, somewhat tall and comely, with very reverted countenance, such as the beholder may both believe and fear.

"His hair is of the color of chestnut, full ripe, plain to his ears, whence downward it is more orient and curling, and waving above his shoulders. In the midst of his head is a seam, or partition in his hair, after the manner of the Nazarenes. His forehead is plain and very delicate. His face, without spot or wrinkle, is beautiful with a lovely red.

"It cannot be remembered that any have seen him laugh, but many have seen him weep. In proportion of body he is most excellent. His hands and arms most delicate to behold. In speaking he is very temperate, modest and wise, a man for his singular beauty surpassing the children of men."
